Memorial Day is for remembering military men and women, those brave warriors who have gone before us, those who are still unaccounted for and those who have given the ultimate sacrifice who will never come home. It is a day to honor those who have given us the gift of freedom.

Since the very early days of the settlement of our nation, American service members have been the defenders of freedom and liberty. Since our humble beginnings, Americans have fought and died on battlefields here and abroad to defend our freedom.

Since the Revolutionary War, millions of men and women have served in America’s military; many died in that service. These courageous warriors come from many different backgrounds, but they are bonded by duty, honor, and country.

Our nation is still able to call upon its sons and daughters to go into harm’s way to protect us and defend our way of life. These men and women are part of an unending line of proud citizens who have answered our nation’s call to duty. Their families also answer that call.

Enemies change over time, battlefield strategies change, technology and weaponry changes, but one thing that has not changed from the Revolutionary War to Operation New Dawn is the dedication and courage of American military men and women.

As long as we take time to remember and pay tribute to our fallen Americans, their service and sacrifice will not have been in vain. We must remember that freedom is not free.

General Patton prayed, “Let me not mourn for the men who have died fighting, but rather let me be glad that such heroes have lived.” Let us remember those who have paid the price for our freedom and let us thank those who are still serving. They continue the legacy of duty, honor, and country. They continue to provide us the gift of freedom.

Iowa Veterans Cemetery

News and Updates

Keith Blum, Cemetery Superintendent, reports that the cemetery is ready for summer. The irrigation system is up and running; the trees and grasses are bursting with green. The cemetery staff has put down a lot of sod, and continues to work on the flower beds so they look their best.

Keith also reports that the cemetery has a bad case of dandelions. It turns out that the rain and heat of last year — combined with our moist spring — has resulted in a HUGE crop of dandelions (source: KCRG-TV News).

The James Jordan Assembly Knights of Columbus, including Roger Till, Marty Piper, Lavern Heithoff, and Marke Lyle, arrive at the cemetery once a week to help with mowing, watering, and trimming. They do a great job and are much needed and appreciated! Thank you to all!

We are grateful that once again the Van Meter American Legion helped install the cemetery flags on Memorial Day.

New cemetery regulations:
During colder weather, artificial flowers will be permitted from October through April.

Memorial Day Flower Policy:
Artificial flowers may be placed at the site of the interment one week prior and one week following Memorial Day. IVC staff will remove all artificial flowers on the Monday following Memorial Day. Lastly, miniature flags may now be placed at the interment site any day of the year.

The Iowa Veterans Cemetery reports that through the end of April there are:
- Applications on file: over 5100
- Veterans interred: 692
- Interments: 815
- In Memory of Markers: 25

National Veterans Awareness Ride

Motorcyclists participating in the National Veterans Awareness Ride (NVAR) paid a visit to IVC in May. NVAR is a ten-day ride across America from Sacramento, California to Washington, DC. During the ride (and throughout the year), members visit veterans hospitals and homes to spend time with vets and thank them for their service. Riders speak at schools about the pride of patriotism and the importance of veterans in our society, and unfailingly participate in memorial services that honor military personnel who have paid the ultimate price for our freedom.
A display featuring hundreds of photos is about to begin its Iowa tour — honoring members of the military who have died in combat since the 9/11 attacks of 2001. The exhibit called “Remembering Our Fallen” is sponsored by Bellevue University in Omaha.

The exhibit...was created to honor those who have made the ultimate sacrifice in the Iraq and Afghanistan wars,” Jim Maxwell, spokesperson for the school says, “It’s a legacy that these men and women will never be forgotten and their names will be remembered and spoken.” The display includes photos of 98 service members from Nebraska and Iowa who have died in the War on Terror in the past decade. Maxwell says the exhibit has been at Bellevue University since late March and it has elicited an emotional response like nothing else they’ve had on campus. “Some people have left written notes on the display itself to be given to the families at a later date,” he says. “If you view the display yourself, you’re used to seeing people in uniform but when you start to see photos of people in their everyday lives, people in roles as fathers, wives and mothers and you see children in the photos, it really hits home.”

As of May 1st, the display will start what is hoped to be a national campaign, appearing at various locations in Nebraska and Iowa through the end of the year. Iowa schedule: June 13-18, Shenandoah Chamber & Industry Association, Shenandoah; June 20-25, Wilson Performing Arts Center, Red Oak; July 22-29, Site TBD, Muscatine; September 6-11, Onawa Public Library, Onawa; September 13-17, Stanton School, Stanton; September 18, Remembrance Run, Sandpiper Rec Area, Saylorville Lake.

What Does it Mean to be a Military Veteran in Iowa?

“Being in Iowa” is a series of multi-part reports that goes in-depth to examine what it is like to be a minority in Iowa. The reports look at the issues, history, cultural traditions, challenges, and future of each diverse group of people that are part of Iowa. Reporter Rob Dillard tells the stories by talking with the leaders, having intimate discussions with some members of each group, and taking listeners to the places that exemplify these communities.

Next in the series is “What does it mean to be a military veteran in the state?” The U.S. census estimates the number of veterans in Iowa at more than 245,000. A third of Iowa’s veterans are aging baby boomers who served during the Vietnam era. Another 30 percent fought in WWII or Korea. Health care is a major focus for veterans’ groups and hospitals.

If you missed the series on radio (640 AM and 90.1 FM), you can listen to the broadcast on IPR’s website: www.iowapublicradio.org.

A Resolution commemorating the seventieth anniversary of the beginning of World War II and honoring all World War II veterans.

WHEREAS, nearly 70 years ago, President Franklin Delano Roosevelt announced to Americans that December 7, 1941, was “a date which will live in infamy”; and

WHEREAS, following the attack, Iowans answered the call of service and joined the armed forces in defense of freedom, with 262,638 Iowans serving valiantly during World War II, with 8,398 laying down their lives, and 10 being awarded the Medal of Honor; and

WHEREAS, during World War II, in some of the darkest days of the twentieth century, Iowans proudly served the United States, which stood with more than 40 allied nations to fight and defeat the enemies of freedom across both the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans; and

WHEREAS, more than 16 million Americans served in the military during World War II and more than 400,000 Americans made the ultimate sacrifice by giving their lives in the service of their country and their fellow Americans and in the name of freedom everywhere; and

WHEREAS, all Americans sacrificed on the home front by giving up their loved ones and working for the war effort, offering valuable support to family members, neighbors, and unknown fellow Americans; and

WHEREAS, we honor the lives lost in the attack on Pearl Harbor and salute the veterans of World War II by remembering their sacrifices, also paying tribute to those now serving America to advance freedom around the world; NOW THEREFORE,

Post-traumatic Stress Disorder (PTSD) App Helps Thousands

The PTSD Coach smartphone application (app), launched in April by the Department of Veterans Affairs and the Department of Defense, has already helped more than 5,000 users connect with important mental health information and resources.

Since its launch, the PTSD Coach app has been downloaded by thousands of individuals. While 96 percent of the users so far are located in the United States, it has also been downloaded in 25 other countries. The application allows users to track their PTSD symptoms, link them with public and personalized sources of support, provide accurate information about PTSD, and teach helpful strategies for managing PTSD symptoms on the go.

The app has also already proven to be a useful tool for the staff at the Veterans Crisis Line. Within the first two hours of the app’s official launch, the Crisis Line staff were contacted by a distressed veteran who reported being instructed by the app to call the crisis line and was subsequently given an appointment at the local VA Medical Center. Crisis Line staff have begun to regularly recommend this resource to callers.

The app is one of the first in a series of jointly-designed resources by the VA National Center for PTSD and DoD’s National Center for Telehealth and Technology to help service members and veterans manage their readjustment challenges and receive anonymous assistance. Given the popularity of mobile devices, VA and DoD hope to reach tens of thousands of veterans, service members, and their family members with the new suite of apps. (Sources below)

More apps from DoD’s National Center can be found at: http://www.t2health.org/apps.
Information on the PTSD Coach app is on the VA’s National Center for PTSD Website: http://www.ptsd.va.gov/public/pages/PTSDCoach.asp.
Vehicle Registration Penalties Waived

400.44(6) Waiver of penalties for military members. Registration penalties shall be waived as provided in Iowa Code section 321.134, subsection 5, if the owner provides a copy of an official government document verifying that the applicant is in the military service of the United States and has been relocated as a result of being placed on active duty on or after September 11, 2001.

This Administrative Rule refers to a waiver of registration fee penalties that have accrued on a vehicle that has not been renewed in time. If a military person is suddenly deployed, they may not have time to put their vehicle into storage (remove the plates and inform their county treasurer). If this should happen, the vehicle registration could go delinquent in the owner's absence. The waiver permitted by 321.134(5) and the above Rule “forgives” any accrued registration penalties if the owner can provide “an official government document” verifying that the applicant was deployed for active military service.

Family Caregivers of Wounded Warriors

The Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) and Easter Seals formally announced a partnership to provide comprehensive caregiver training to family caregivers of eligible post-9/11 veterans as authorized by the Caregivers and Veterans Omnibus Health Services Act of 2010.

Beginning May 9, 2011 family caregivers and veterans could apply for services authorized under a VA interim final rule that was published on May 5.

Eligible family caregivers of eligible post-9/11 veterans will receive comprehensive training developed by Easter Seals in collaboration with VA clinical experts. It is part of a package of new services that also include a monthly stipend, mental health services, and access to medical care under the Civilian Health and Medical Program of the Department of Veterans Affairs (CHAMPVA), if the primary family caregiver is not entitled to care or services under a health plan contract.

Family caregivers of eligible post-9/11 veterans will have a choice of how to receive their training. Options will include traditional classroom training, online learning, or a correspondence course. The first training courses are expected to start in June, and monthly stipends, which are backdated to the day applications are formally submitted, could begin as early as July.

Veterans may download a copy of the Family Caregiver program application at www.caregiver.va.gov. The application enables the veteran to designate a primary family caregiver and secondary family caregivers. Caregiver support coordinators are available by phone at 1-877-222 VETS (8387) to assist veterans and family caregivers with the application process. Caregivers of veterans from all eras are also encouraged to use the website and support line to explore more than two dozen other services VA provides caregivers. Reaching Out to Rural Veterans

Nearly 40 percent of enrolled veterans in the VA health system live in rural areas of our country. Like other individuals living in rural areas, veterans have difficulty in obtaining access to quality health care; the reasons mainly stem from the need to travel long distances to health care facilities, lack of health insurance, and lack of specialty care providers working in rural areas. As a result, rural populations tend to be in poorer health; in fact, a study by the Office of Health and Human Services estimates that half of the adults living in rural areas suffer from a chronic health condition. With regard to rural veterans, there are the unique health complications associated with combat exposure such as PTSD, depression, and traumatic brain injury.

Over the past decades, VA has transformed itself from an in-patient primary care system to an out-patient health care system with an emphasis on prevention and patient-centered care using the electronic health record and patient aligned care teams. The Office of Rural Health (ORH) was created in March 2007 to bring this model of care to veterans in rural and highly rural areas.

ORH has established six strategic goals and associated initiatives to accomplish their mission of increasing access to quality health care for veterans living in rural areas. These initiatives are vital to Iowa veterans living in rural areas. For more information, visit: http://www.blogs.va.gov/VAntage/?p=21019 (Source)

Blue Star Mothers

On Saturday, March 5th, the Gold Star Museum unveiled their new Medal of Honor display. Among the many dignitaries on hand were the Blue Star Mothers of Iowa, who were honored to have Rose Giunta, mother of Sal Giunta — Iowa’s medal of honor recipient — speak to their group. Julie Greer, president of BSMA IA #1 reports that Iowa has two Blue Star Mothers chapters — Chapter 1 that encompasses most of central Iowa, and Chapter 2 from western Iowa. She joined the group because she needed support when her son was deployed in 2009.

The Blue Star Mothers of America, Inc. is a non-partisan, non-political organization. They do not support any political candidate, nor endorse any religious organization. The military represents all aspects of America as does their organization, providing support for active duty service personnel, promoting patriotism, assisting veterans’ organizations, and always ready to help in homeland volunteer efforts. Perhaps most importantly, the Blue Star Moms support other moms of military soldiers. They are mothers who now have, or have had children serving in the military.

The Blue Star Mothers were nearly 30,000 strong during World War II. Mothers volunteered throughout the tough times of the war; they worked in hospitals, train stations, packed care packages for soldiers, and were a working part of homeland security during times of war. The organization has waned in size over the years but has held together by mothers showing pride in both their children and country. In recent times they have began to grow in strength. Many of us old enough to remember, recall the blue star banners hanging in neighborhood windows — indicating a member of the household was serving in the military. A gold star meant the family had lost a family member in the service. Our gratitude to Blue Star Mothers past and present is immeasurable. Department of Veterans Affairs - Office of Survivors Assistance

Helping Our Survivors through their Time of Transition

The Office of Survivor Assistance (OSA) was established in October 2008 by Public Law 110-389, Title II, Section 222, and is the primary advisor to Secretary of Veterans Affairs Eric K. Shinseki, on all matters related to policies, programs, legislative issues, and other initiatives affecting veterans' survivors and dependents of survivors.

OSA monitors VA's delivery of benefits to survivors, makes appropriate referrals to VA offices for survivors seeking benefits, and explores innovative ways of reaching survivors who are not receiving VA benefits for which they are entitled to receive. Some of these benefits include, but are not limited to, education assistance, home loan guaranties, health care insurance, and Dependency and Indemnity Compensation (DIC). To fulfill its mission, the Office of Survivors Assistance has been working closely with senior VA leadership to provide up-to-date information on the issues faced by the survivor community.

OSA has also established multiple partnerships with the Department of Defense agencies, veterans service organizations and other non-government organizations to explore ways to ease the transition of survivors into the VA system, and to make a difference in survivors' lives.

More information can be received by calling 202-461-1077, by visiting their Web site at www.va.gov/survivors, or contacting them at officeofsurvivors@va.gov.

A new VA initiative, the Veterans Justice Outreach (VJO) Program, is now in place at the VA Central Iowa Health Care System in Des Moines. VJO is an outreach program designed to collaborate with local justice system partners to identify veterans who enter the criminal justice system and are in need of treatment services rather than incarceration.

The VJO Specialist will:

- Provide direct outreach, assessment, and case management for justice-involved veterans in local courts and jails;
- Assist with eligibility determination, enrollment, and referral to both VA and non-VA services upon release;
- Provide training to local law enforcement on veterans' issues and offer strategies to help work with veterans;
- Provide information and education to courts and attorneys about veterans' issues and services available;
- Collaborate with judges and specialty courts to connect veterans to VA treatment services and homeless programs; and
- Develop and implement separate Veteran Treatment Courts if need is determined.

Story County - Cambridge, IA March 14, 2011 - Harold, a disabled WWII veteran participated in the Veterans Creative Arts Competition in February 2011. This winter he drew a number of trees by looking out the picture window of his Medical Foster Home as a recreational activity. His monochrome drawing went all the way to the national competition to win a blue ribbon (1st place). He lives at Home Sweet Home, a Story County Medical Foster Home.

Medical Foster Homes are sponsored and supported by the VA Central Iowa Healthcare System and provide an alternative to nursing home placement for our veterans who need the care of another but don't have family able to provide care. The veterans are matched with caregivers in our communities who open their homes to one or two veterans in need of a family. Medical Foster Home Caregivers provide a loving home atmosphere, meals, personal care and supervision.

Any veterans interested in this assisted living alternative to nursing home placement can contact Scott Olson at scotto0125@gmail.com or call (515) 220-4010.

August 7th – Iowa’s Purple Heart Day

August 7 will now officially be known as “Purple Heart Day” here in Iowa. Under House File 474, unanimously approved by the Legislature and signed by the Governor, state and local governments—and ALL Iowans—are encouraged to observe Purple Heart Day in a way that honors the sacrifice of our military men and women killed or wounded in enemy action, or who suffered maltreatment as prisoners of war.

August 7 was selected because on that day in 1782, General George Washington created the “Badge for Military Merit,” a purple, heart-shaped piece of silk edged with silver binding. The badge was presented to soldiers for “any singularly meritorious action.”

ESGR Names Volunteer of the Year

John Mikelson of Columbus Junction, and a volunteer with the Iowa Committee of Employer Support of the Guard and Reserve (ESGR), was recently named Volunteer of the Year in recognition of his work on behalf of ESGR.

A veterans advisor employed by University of Iowa Veterans, John also serves as a military outreach volunteer. Rob Kelly, vice-chair of Iowa ESGR, reports that, “John can speak first-hand about military service, and his sincerity and honesty only enhance his vast knowledge when speaking to civilians and service members.” We thank John for all of his work on behalf of veterans.
On April 16, 2011 at the Korean War veterans meeting in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, the Air Medal was presented by the University of Iowa ROTC to Airman Third Class Edward R. Wittig. The Air Medal presentation was over 59 years in the works! A3C Wittig served in Korea from 1951-1955 as an airborne radio operator. Now retired, he lives in Cedar Rapids.

The Air Medal is a military decoration of the United States. The award was created in 1942, and is awarded for meritorious achievement while participating in aerial flight. Awards may be made to recognize single acts of merit or heroism, or for meritorious service.

We thank Airman Third Class Edward Wittig for his extraordinary achievement while assigned to the 6167th Operations Squadron, 6167th Air Base Group, Fifth Air Force over enemy-occupied Korea.
